1 Policy Statement

1.1 Embley is committed to safeguarding the wellbeing of pupils and staff and, in line with relevant legislation, only permits physical restraint by reasonable and non-injurious means. Restrictive interventions, including the use of reasonable force, restraint and seclusion, are used only when immediately necessary for the minimum time necessary to prevent injury to self or others or very serious damage to property. Embley recognises that restrictive interventions can have a significant physical and psychological impact on children and staff. We fully recognise that the School may need to use restrictive intervention and reasonable force to protect children and staff and that this should only ever be used when necessary, proportionate and lawful, and where less restrictive measures have been attempted or assessed as inappropriate in the circumstances. Any incident involving the use of restrictive intervention is recorded on CPOMS.

1.2 Embley seeks to implement this policy through adherence to the procedures set out in the rest of this document.

1.3 This policy applies to all members of our school community, including boarders and those in our EYFS setting.

1.4 Embley is fully committed to ensuring that the application of this policy is non-discriminatory in line with the UK Equality Act (2010). Further details are available in the School's Equal Opportunities Policy document.

1.5 This policy is informed by DfE guidance: Restrictive interventions, including the use of reasonable force, in schools (April 2026).

1.6 This policy is available to relevant parties in accordance with our statement on the provision of information.

1.7 In line with our Provision of Information and Data Protection Policy, this document is available to all interested parties on our website (as well as our Network) and on request from the Headmaster's Office and should be read in conjunction with the following documents:

- The Child Protection (Safeguarding) Policy
- Staff Code of Conduct
- The Anti-Bullying Policy
- Behaviour and Discipline Policy

2 Key Personnel

Implementation of the Physical Restraint Policy is the responsibility of Leah Goodey in the Senior School and Sheina Gibb in the Prep School, including EYFS.

3 Staff Training

3.1 Embley recognises that staff training is a critical component of preventing the need for restrictive interventions and ensuring that, where they are used, they are applied safely, lawfully and proportionately.

3.2 In line with the April 2026 Department for Education guidance, staff who are likely to work in situations where restrictive interventions will receive appropriate training in behaviour support, prevention and de-escalation strategies, and the safe and lawful use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions.

3.3 Training will reflect the principles of this guidance and will support staff to assess necessity and proportionality, understand risks to physical and psychological wellbeing, recognise the impact of trauma and SEND, and make defensible professional judgements, including in situations where decisions must be taken quickly.

3.4 Embley will ensure that training needs are informed by its cohort of children, patterns and trends in incidents, and risk assessments.

3.5 As an employer, Embley will take reasonably practicable steps to ensure the health, safety and welfare of staff, including providing refresher training, access to advice and support, and additional guidance where staff regularly work with children who present a higher level of risk.

4 The Use of Restrictive Interventions

4.1 Prevention and de-escalation

Embley prioritises proactive strategies to minimise the need for restriction interventions including:

- Positive behaviour support approaches
- Consistent routines and expectations
- Effective communication strategies
- Strong relationships between staff and children
- Environmental adaptations
- Early identification of triggers
- Individual support which may include behaviour support plans, individual risk assessments, reasonable adjustments, sensory strategies and joint working with parents and external professionals

4.2 When restrictive interventions may be used

4.2.1 Restrictive interventions, including the use of reasonable force, restraint and seclusion, may only be used in exceptional circumstances where they are lawful, necessary and proportionate, and where other less restrictive measures have been attempted or assessed as inappropriate in the circumstances.

4.2.2 In line with the April 2026 Department for Education guidance, restrictive interventions may only be used to prevent a child from:

- causing injury to themselves or others
- committing a criminal offence
- causing serious damage to property
- causing significant disorder

4.2.3 The decision to use a restrictive intervention is a matter of professional judgement and must always be based on the specific circumstances at the time. Before using, or continuing to use, a restrictive intervention, staff must, wherever practicable, consider the following factors, which are drawn directly from the guidance:

4.2.4 Necessity

Staff should consider whether a restrictive intervention is required to reduce an immediate risk of harm and whether other less restrictive strategies, including de-escalation, redirection or support from other staff, are likely to be effective. Where a restrictive intervention is unlikely to successfully reduce risk or is likely to escalate the situation further or cause more harm than the behaviour itself, it should not be used.

4.2.5 Proportionality

Any restrictive intervention must be the least restrictive option available, using the minimum amount of force for the shortest amount of time necessary to reduce the risk. If an intervention is not reducing risk or is escalating the situation, staff must reconsider their approach and seek to reduce or cease the intervention as soon as it is safe to do so.

4.2.6 Child welfare and dignity

Staff must consider the impact of any restrictive intervention on the child's physical and psychological wellbeing. Where possible, staff should seek to maintain the child's dignity, including consideration of the environment in which the intervention takes place, and should communicate calmly and clearly with the child about what is happening and why.

4.2.7 Vulnerabilities and SEN

Staff must have regard to the individual needs and circumstances of the child, including any special educational needs, disabilities, medical conditions, communication needs, sensory sensitivities, past trauma or other vulnerabilities. These factors may affect how a child experiences an intervention and must inform decision-making before, during and after any restrictive intervention.

4.2.8 Equality implications

Staff must consider relevant duties under the Equality Act 2010, including the need to avoid discrimination, make reasonable adjustments and ensure that responses do not disproportionately impact children who share protected characteristics.

Restrictive interventions must never be used as a punishment, as a disciplinary sanction, or for the purpose of compliance or convenience. They must only be used as a last resort safety measure and must cease as soon as the immediate risk has reduced.

4.2.9 Following any restrictive intervention, staff must ensure that appropriate post-incident actions are taken in line with this policy, including recording and reporting, medical checks where appropriate, reflection and review.

5 Unacceptable use of restrictive intervention

5.1 Restrictive interventions must never be used as a punishment, a disciplinary sanction, or for the purpose of compliance, convenience or to manage behaviour where there is no immediate risk of harm. Any use of force or restrictive practice for these purposes is unlawful.

5.2 Staff must not use any techniques or approaches that may restrict or interfere with a child's airway, breathing or circulation. This includes, but is not limited to, applying pressure to the neck, throat, chest or abdomen, covering the mouth or nose, or positioning a child in a way that compromises respiration. Such practices present a serious and potentially fatal medical risk and are strictly prohibited.

5.3 The use of restrictive interventions carries inherent physical and psychological risk, particularly where they occur on the ground. Ground restraint should therefore be avoided wherever possible. Where a child is unintentionally brought to the ground, staff must take immediate steps to reduce risk by repositioning or releasing holds as soon as it is safe to do so and moving to a safer alternative or standing position.

5.4 Any restrictive intervention that presents, or begins to present, a medical risk must stop immediately. Where a child has been restrained, particularly where there has been any impact to breathing, circulation, consciousness or physical injury, staff must seek medical assessment and treatment as soon as practicable.

5.5 Staff must also be mindful that restrictive interventions can cause significant psychological distress. Interventions that humiliate, degrade, intimidate, threaten or deliberately cause emotional harm are unacceptable. All responses must seek to preserve the child's dignity and wellbeing, even in high-risk situations.

5.6 Any incident involving unacceptable practice, or where there is concern that an intervention may have compromised a child's safety, must be reported immediately in line with the Allegations of abuse against staff and low level concerns policy and the Safeguarding and child protection policy.

6 Appropriate Physical Contact

Appropriate physical contact (for example, first aid, comfort, guiding or PE instruction, moving and handling for children in wheelchairs) is lawful and sometimes necessary. Staff must use professional judgement and consider safeguarding context, child age, vulnerability and alternative strategies.

7 Reasonable Force for Searching Children

7.1 Under statutory powers, the Headmaster and staff authorised by the Headmaster may search a child or their possessions where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that the child is in possession of a prohibited item.

7.2 Prohibited items are those set out in legislation and include, for example, knives or weapons, alcohol, illegal drugs, stolen items and any article that has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property.

7.3 Where a lawful search is taking place for a prohibited item, staff may use such force as is reasonable in the circumstances to conduct that search. Any use of force in this context must be necessary, proportionate and for the shortest possible time, and must be consistent with the principles set out in this policy.

7.4 Reasonable force must not be used to search for items that are banned only under the school's own rules.

7.5 Where force is used during a search, this will be treated as a restrictive intervention and must be managed in line with this policy, including consideration of the child's welfare, dignity, vulnerabilities and any SEND or medical needs.

7.6 Any significant incident involving the use of force during a search must be recorded and reported in accordance with statutory duties.

7.7 All searches must be carried out in accordance with the school's Searching, Screening and Confiscation procedures, and staff involved in searching children will receive appropriate guidance and training.

8 Seclusion

8.1 Seclusion is defined in statutory guidance as a non-disciplinary, short-term safety measure and may only be used when a child is experiencing high levels of emotional or behavioural dysregulation and there is a serious or immediate risk of harm to the child or others. Seclusions must never be used as a punishment, a sanction, a planned behaviour management strategy, or as a response to deliberate non-compliance where there is no immediate risk.

8.2 Seclusion must only ever be used to reduce an immediate risk of harm and must not be used to coerce, threaten or control a child. It should not be implemented through the threat of punishment or the suggestion that negative consequences will follow if a child attempts to leave.

8.3 Where seclusion is used, the place to which the pupil is confined should be safe and not feel threatening or intimidating to the pupil, taking into account the child's age, needs, vulnerabilities and sensory sensitivities. The environment must not present a risk to the child's physical or psychological wellbeing and should allow them to calm and regain regulation.

8.4 The pupil should be supervised at all times during the period of seclusion. Supervision must be active and purposeful, enabling staff to monitor the child's physical and emotional wellbeing, communicate appropriately, and respond immediately if the child becomes distressed, unwell or at risk.

8.5 Seclusion must end as soon as the immediate risk of harm has reduced. It must not continue beyond the point at which it is necessary to manage risk, and children must be supported to rejoin others safely when they are able to do so.

8.6 Any incident involving seclusion must be treated as a significant safeguarding event.

8.7 All incidents of seclusion must be recorded on CPOMS.

8.8 Following any use of seclusion, appropriate post-incident actions must take place, including welfare checks, reflection, support and review of preventative strategies and assessment of risk.

9 Record Keeping

9.1 Embley recognises that incidents involving restrictive interventions are significant safeguarding events

9.2 The governing body ensures that clear procedures are in place for the recording and reporting of all relevant incidents.

9.3 Recording of incidents involving restrictive intervention or the use of force

9.3.1 All incidents must be recorded on CPOMS under the Safeguarding Intervention category - Restrictive Intervention subcategory - as soon as practicable after the event. Staff should endeavour to complete records no later than the same day.

9.3.2 Records must be completed by all the staff member(s) involved and must provide a clear, factual account of the incident.

9.3.3 Information recorded includes:

- the name of the child and the names of staff directly involved
- the date, time, location and approximate duration of the incident
- a brief account of what happened, including any known context, antecedents, triggers and behaviours of concern
- details of any preventative or de-escalation strategies attempted prior to the use of force
- where relevant, the type of reasonable force used and the degree of force applied
- a brief explanation of why the use of force was assessed as necessary at the time
- details of any physical injuries, distress or welfare concerns
- details of any immediate and ongoing post-incident support, including medical attention where provided

10 Reporting of incidents involving restrictive intervention or the use of force

10.1 Parents must be informed in writing of each significant incident involving the use of force as soon as practicable after the incident, and Embley should endeavour to do this no later than the same day, unless a statutory exception* applies.

Reports to parents will include, as a minimum:

- the date, time, location and approximate duration of the incident
- a brief account of why the intervention was assessed as necessary
- a brief description of what type of force was used and the degree of force applied
- details of any physical injuries or welfare concerns, where applicable

10.2 Embley will normally invite parents to discuss the incident, including any relevant triggers, the effectiveness of preventative strategies, and whether any behaviour support plans or risk assessments require review.

Exceptions to the duty to report apply only where:

- a pupil is aged 20 or over, or
- it appears that informing a particular parent would be likely to result in serious harm to the child. In such cases, the incident will be reported to any parent to whom it can safely be reported, or, where this is not possible, to the relevant local authority

10.3 Post-incident support and review

Following any restrictive intervention, Embley will ensure that appropriate and timely actions are taken to safeguard the physical and emotional wellbeing of all those involved, to understand what happened and why, and to reduce the likelihood of future incidents.

11 Welfare and medical checks

11.1 Immediate checks

As soon as practicable after the incident, staff will check the child and any staff involved for signs of injury, distress or illness. Where appropriate, first aid will be administered and medical assessment or treatment sought. Any injuries or health concerns will be recorded on ARMS and reported to the Health and Safety Executive where required.

11.2 Emotional wellbeing and safeguarding support

Embley recognises that restrictive interventions can be distressing. Consideration will therefore be given to the emotional wellbeing needs of the child, any staff involved, and any children who may have witnessed the incident. Support may include access to pastoral staff, counselling services, trusted adults or other appropriate support mechanisms.

12 Reflection, learning and review

12.1 Embley will hold and record the outcomes of reflective debrief conversations following incidents involving restrictive interventions. These discussions are intended to support wellbeing, enable learning and improvement, and reduce future risk. Where appropriate, debriefs will include:

- a factual review of what happened and why
- reflection on early warning signs and triggers
- consideration of what preventative and de-escalation strategies were used and their effectiveness
- identification of any alternative approaches that may reduce the likelihood of recurrence

12.2 Where possible, debriefs should be facilitated by a member of staff who was not directly involved in the incident, and may include the child and their parent where appropriate.

12.3 Review of support and risk management

Following any restrictive intervention, Embley will review relevant behaviour support plans, risk assessments and reasonable adjustments. Changes will be made where necessary to better support the child, address underlying needs, and strengthen preventative measures. Consideration must be given as to the best approach to obtaining child voice, particularly for children who choose not to speak or find communication challenging.

12.4 Repairing relationships and reintegration

Embley is committed to repairing and rebuilding relationships following incidents involving restrictive interventions. Where appropriate, restorative approaches will be used to support the child's reintegration, rebuild trust between children and staff, and promote a sense of safety, dignity and belonging.

12.5 Monitoring and escalation

Leaders will monitor incidents and post-incident actions to identify patterns, emerging risks or training needs. Where restrictive interventions occur repeatedly or where concerns arise, this will trigger further review, multi-agency engagement where appropriate, and escalation through safeguarding or SEND processes.

13 Governance

13.1 The Governors recognise that the use of restrictive interventions is a significant safeguarding matter and will provide appropriate oversight to ensure that practice across is lawful, proportionate and focused on prevention.

13.2 In line with statutory duties and the April 2026 Department for Education guidance, the Local Governing Body will ensure that suitable arrangements are in place to support the effective implementation of this policy and the associated recording and reporting requirements.

13.3 In fulfilling this responsibility, the Local Governing Body will:

- ensure that this policy is implemented and reviewed regularly
- assure itself that statutory recording and reporting duties are being met
- receive and consider information about the use of restrictive interventions, including emerging patterns or trends
- be mindful of any disproportionate impact on children with special educational needs and disabilities or other identified vulnerabilities
- use information from incidents to inform discussion about prevention, training and support
- ensure that staff are appropriately supported and trained
- ensure that learning from incidents contributes to the ongoing development of practice

13.4 Oversight of restrictive interventions will form part of the governing body's wider safeguarding, child protection and child wellbeing responsibilities.

14 Complaints

14.1 Any complaints raised in relation to the use of restrictive interventions will be managed in accordance with Embley's complaints procedure.

14.2 Where an allegation is made that a member of staff has used restrictive interventions inappropriately, unlawfully or in a way that may have placed a child at risk, the matter will be managed in line with Keeping Children Safe in Education (2025), the Allegations Against Staff and Low Level Concerns Policy and the Staff Discipline Policy.

14.3 Learning arising from complaints and allegations will be used to inform training, policy review and preventative practice.

Appendix 1 - Definitions

- Restrictive intervention: Any action that prevents, restricts or subdues a child's movement, including physical and non-physical interventions.
- Reasonable force: Physical force used by staff to prevent injury, damage, criminal behaviour or serious disorder. It must be the minimum necessary for the shortest time.
- Restraint: A non-disciplinary intervention that immobilises or limits a child's movement, with or without physical contact.
- Seclusion: A non-disciplinary safety measure involving keeping a child in a place away from others and preventing them from leaving.
- Significant incident: Any incident where force goes beyond everyday physical contact and requires formal recording and reporting.

Appendix 2 - Statutory power to use reasonable force (Education and Inspections Act 2006)

Under section 93 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, all members of school staff have a statutory power to use reasonable force in limited circumstances to prevent a child from causing injury to themselves or others, committing a criminal offence, damaging property, or causing disorder.

This power applies while staff are lawfully in charge of children and extends to situations both on and off site, including educational visits.

Section 93 provides the legal basis for the use of reasonable force in schools, and any such use must be reasonable in the circumstances, meaning that it must be necessary and proportionate to the risks presented at the time.

In addition, section 93A of the Act places a statutory duty on governing bodies and proprietors to ensure that arrangements are in place for recording and reporting significant incidents involving the use of force.
